

The Promise of Purity

1. God commands us to be sexually pure.
 - a. We need to abstain from all sexual perversion.
 - b. Those who practice and/or affirm sexual perversion are not right with God.
 - c. Those who are married need regularly scheduled intimacy.

2. God commands us to develop reasonable and intentional guardrails to keep us pure.
 - a. We need to establish a covenantal guardrail with our eyes.
 - b. We need to establish a covenantal guardrail with our minds.
 - c. We need to establish a covenant guardrail with our hearts.

3. God commands us to confess our sin and not conceal it.

Take away